MONDAY REPORT

Lucy Kubiszyn, Editor
March 15, 1993

SHELTON STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE
Record Series: Campus Newsletter
File: EG 1-12-5
Date: 10-17-96

SHELTON STATE TO OFFER NEW SHORT COURSE

For the first time beginning March 16 and continuing for 10 weeks, a body sculpturing bench class will be offered by Shelton State. The new class will be offered at noon on Tuesdays and Thursdays and will be taught at Studio 2 downtown, located between Fred's Department Store and Stage Center, home of Theatre Tuscaloosa.

The class is designed by Milady Khoury-Murphy and is offered through the college's Wellness Center. Each class will last approximately 45 minutes and the cost of the 10-week course is $35.00.

Shelton State's Wellness Center, under the direction of Khoury-Murphy, has received national recognition for its community programs. For the third consecutive year, Dr. Khoury-Murphy has been asked to speak at the National Community College Wellness Conference on Shelton's role in providing wellness programs for the community.

Also, the Shelton State wellness program and its influence on the aging process of its participants was recently featured on an Alabama Public Television program that was broadcasted to 11 states. The program was filmed in conjunction with the University of Alabama and was targeted toward high school students across the country in order to educate them on the aging process.

For additional information on any of the wellness programs at Shelton State Community College or to register for the body sculpturing bench class, contact Khoury-Murphy, 391-2394.

SHELTON STATE TO OFFER CLASS ON HOME GARDENING AND LAWN CARE

This spring Shelton State's continuing education program will offer a class on home gardening and lawn care. The class will meet on Thursday evenings and will continue through April 22. There will not be a class on April 1 because of AEA week. The class will be taught from 5:30 -7:30 p.m. in Room 103 of the learning resource center located on Shelton's Fifteenth Street Campus. The instructor for the class is Lloyd Weatherly, and the cost is $40.00. To register for the class, contact June Hogue, 391-2411, or the office of the Shelton State Foundation, 391-2298.

PARKING PROBLEMS AT SHELTON STATE.

STUDENTS! Please be aware that the college admistration is most concerned about the lack of parking spaces. This is most acute during the morning hours Monday through Friday. The following changes are being made in order to improve the parking situation:

1. Restriping the lot to increase the number of spaces;
2. Using crosstles and tagrory striping to better utilize the ANNEX parking lot;
3. Encouraging employees and students of the college to park at the K-Mart lot and car pool with a co-worker or fellow student and bring their cars after lunch.

SHELTON STATE AND KIWANIS OF TUSCALOOSA TO SPONSOR THE "WEEK OF THE YOUNG CHILD"

The week of April 17-24 has been designated the "Week of the Young Child" in Tuscaloosa County. As part of the celebration, Shelton State Community College and the Kiwanis clubs of Tuscaloosa will join forces by sponsoring a number of activities highlighting the importance of young children.

On Saturday, April 17, directors, teachers, and parents of young children will meet at Shelton State's auditorium located on the college's Skyland Boulevard Campus for the annual Early Childhood Development Conference. The theme of this year's conference is "Their Future in our Hands . . . .Our Future in Theirs . . . ."

Topics scheduled to be covered include: kids and the earth; first aid and safety; woodworking; infants; adventures in space; extending the curriculum outdoors; print-rich environment; parenting-discipline; professionalism; innovative learning environments; Indians; puppets; toddlers; Child Development Associate update; teacher-parent communications; music and movement; and the subject "What is quality?"

As part of a finale to the conference, Dr. Allen Mallory, a member of the college's faculty, will present his "Laugh and Learn" program that he performs in comedy clubs across the United States, including the Los Angeles IMPROV.

The conference will begin at 8 a.m. and will continue until 12:45 p.m. Pre-registration fee is $10 and on-site registration is $15.00. For additional information or to register, contact Sherry Kirksey, director of Shelton's child development center, 391-2287, or 391-2225. Professional development credit will be given.

On Sunday, April 18, area churches and synagogues will be asked to celebrate and to value children. On Monday, April 19, a pre-school pep rally will be held at 10:30 a.m. at Snow Hinton Park. Children from child care facilities in Tuscaloosa will meet at the park for a giant pep rally as part of the week's celebration.

Local, state, and national officials will be contacted Tuesday, April 20, and asked to support the needs of young children and to be aware of their future impact on our society. On Wednesday, a new activity entitled "Take your child to work" is scheduled. Parents will be encouraged to bring a life-size body tracing or a photograph or handprint of their child to work that day. Employers are asked to post the drawings and pictures on a bulletin board or in some other manner in order to emphasize the importance of child care on the work place.

A "Walk for Worthy Wages" parade is scheduled for Thursday, April 22, at 11 a.m. The theme for Friday, April 23, is "Caring Connections for Ourselves," and on Saturday, April 24, parents will be asked to plan some type of activities that are designed to make their children feel special.

For additional information on any activities connected with the "Week of the Young Child" or for additional information on early childhood education, contact Kirksey, 391-2225.

SHARON DECK ATTENDS ANNUAL SOUTHEAST CONFERENCE

The annual meeting of the Southeast Conference on Teaching English in the two year colleges, was held this year in Chattanooga, TN and the college was represented by Sharon Deck, English Instructor. This organization is the regional affiliate of the National Council of Teachers of English. While in Chattanooga, Ms. Deck also saw Hal Holbrook in his famous one man show, "Mark Twain Tonight."

SHELTON STATES LADY BUCS SCHEDULE FOR MARCH

Date	Opponent	Site	Time
March 16	Wallace-Hanceville	Tuscaloosa	3:00
March 19	Bevill	Tuscaloosa	3:00
March 23	Wallace-Hanceville	Cullman, AL	2:00
March 24	Gadsden	Tuscaloosa	1:00
March 26	Wallace Selma	Tuscaloosa	2:00
March 26	Northwest	Tuscaloosa	4:00